

Try again once you are ready.

Required to pass: 80% or higher

You can retake this quiz up to 3 times every 8 hours.

Back to Week 4

Retake

1. Which technology is file based encryption?

1 / 1 point

Encrypting File System(EFS)

Correct

Yes. You are correct!

BitLocker

2. Windows cannot protect you from malicious piece of content

1 / 1 point

True

Correct

Correct!

False

3. Windows logs can help you understand what is happening in your environment

1 / 1 point

False

True

Correct

Correct!

4. Auditing systems does what?

0 / 1 point

Checks software for compliance

This should not be selected

Incorrect. Please review the Security Considerations for Windows lecture.

Checks storage for memory leaks

Checks software for bugs

Checks objects to log all transactions on the object

5. What is layered security? Chose the most correct answer.

1 / 1 point

Design security to have software run multiple tools against content to see if they are malicious

Designing tools to prevent malicious content

Designing security to have multiple forms of protection, each layer contains another protection mechanism

Correct

Correct.

6. What is not part of a layered security?

0 / 1 point

Software firewalls

Least privilege

This should not be selected

Incorrect. Please review the Security Considerations for Windows lecture.

Changing passwords frequently

Antivirus

7. When is file based encryption best?

0 / 1 point

Between volumes

Between computers

Between both computers and users

Between users

This should not be selected

Incorrect. Please review Windows Encryption lecture.

8. What does a TPM do?

1 / 1 point

Stores passwords in software

Stores passwords in hardware

Stores encryption keys in software

Stores encryption keys in hardware

Correct

Correct!

9. What software can control software within Windows

0 / 1 point

Software Support

Software Restrictions Manager

This should not be selected

Incorrect. Please review the Restricting Software lecture.

AppControl

AppLocker

10. Unless a volume is encrypted, protection through a Windows password is pointless if someone has physical access to a system and tools to reset the password

1 / 1 point

True

Correct

Correct!

False